

Litto Communications - Fact Sheet

Medical Communications Services Provider

OVERVIEW

We help our clients advance their clinical research programs and develop healthcare community understanding and optimal usage of their drugs and medical devices. We offer services in medical affairs, drug information, and clinical development. Our clients include pharmaceutical, biotechnology, medical device, and animal health companies.

We assign medically qualified professionals to every project. Our associates include medical directors (MD), medical writers (PharmD, PhD, MD), editors, project managers, digital designers, and PowerPoint programmers. We have worked in multiple therapeutic categories on human prescription and OTC drugs, medical devices, and animal health products.
